

Anonymous Story

This is my family pic. My Ex and the children (Pictured has been removed for privacy reasons). She cheated on me 21 years ago that she pregnant with my baby to marry her. I believed her and marry her not knowing the baby that she carried was from another man. She did it again 3 years later with another man and cheat me once again that I'm the father. I have raised the family well and giving them a good and comfortable life. Sent them to International School and University. Give them what they ask. Took them overseas trips. I'm so distraught when I came to know the DNA result that I'm not their biological father.